We are delighted to announce that the 2nd International Federation of National Teaching Fellows Summit will take place from the 3rd - 5th May 2018 at Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada.

All IFNTF members are cordially invited to the Summit and all international HE colleagues are welcome too. Building upon the success of the inaugural IFNTF Summit in February 2017 in Birmingham (UK), this event provides valuable opportunities for delegates to meet and work with National Teaching Fellows from Canada, UK, Australia and New Zealand.

The university is within short walking distance from downtown Halifax, the capital of the province of Nova Scotia. Halifax has an airport and a range of hotels, restaurants and places of interest. DALHOUSIE 1818
UNIVERSITY 2018

Organiser: SRINI SAMPALLI

Professor Srinivas Sampalli, Faculty of Computer Science, welcomes all to Dalhousie University as host of the IFNTF Summit. The university celebrates its 200 years anniversary in 2018.

The Summit will open with registration on the afternoon of the 3 May 2018 and will include two full days of presentations, workshops, keynote speakers and a range of networking and development activities. The delegate fee will include morning and afternoon refreshments, lunch on Friday 4th May and Saturday 5th May and the Summit dinner on Friday evening.

We will welcome colleagues from across the globe and the event aims to develop new collaborative ideas, opportunities and friendships. Students will have the opportunity to present at the Summit and all members are cordially invited to participate.

A call for 25-minute papers is announced - individual and group presentations are welcome. Please use the event as an opportunity to share, disseminate, celebrate and promote your pedagogic work, research and scholarship and your passion for learning and teaching.
